WE NOMINATE

Ernest Gordon, 39-year old native of Scotland and for the past 10 months an enthusiastic Princetonian, who this week—following the Commencement Meeting of Princeton University's Board of Trustees — was named Dean of the University Chapel, the third "Princeton Dean" so designated in the last three decades. Following in the footsteps of Robert Russell Wicks and Donald Bradshaw Aldrich, the second of whom has served since 1947, Gordon was called here last summer and as Presbyterian Chaplain on the Westminster Foundation proceeded to demonstrate to the satisfaction of one and all that Princeton undergraduates can demonstrate the principles of churchmanship.

A product of Scottish and American institutions, Gordon is a "new link" between Princeton Present and Princeton Past. For a period of three years, following his ordination in the Church of Scotland, he was deputy minister of the 12th-century "The Abbey Paisley," one of whose ministers was John Witherspoon, the lone clergyman to sign the Declaration of Independence and president of the College of New Jersey in the era when it gained recognition as the "Seminary of Statesmen." University spokesmen, in fact, will go a step further in pointing out that Woodrow Wilson's maternal grandfather was also closely identified with "The Abbey Church," a Scottish national shrine of first importance.

Gordon's World War II record reads much like an American book-of-the-month selection. A British Army captain on three continents, he and his command fell back to ill-fated Singapore and from the "Straits Settlement" made their way to Sumatra. On Sumatra's surrender, Gordon and nine others escaped in a sailboat—only to be recaptured by the Japanese fleet after 24 days at sea, with Sumatra 700 miles astern and Ceylon 400 miles ahead. The next 40 months found him slaving as a Japanese prisoner of war on the "railway of death" between Burma and Thailand but also serving as an unofficial chaplain to his fellow prisoners and teaching in what he now refers to as "our prison university."

On his return to civilian life in 1945, Gordon, a prewar alumnus of St. Andrews University (Scotland) and a Gold Cup sailor as well as a topnotch light heavyweight boxer, resumed his studies of history, philosophy, religion and related subjects and earned advanced degrees at London University and Hartford Theological Seminary. Especially interested in church history, with particular reference to the Russian Orthodox Church, he continued his graduate work at Glasgow University and, after coming to this country, preached regularly in Long Island churches before accepting his Princeton chaplainship last September and later agreeing to direct Bible courses here at Miss Fine's School.

For understanding that religion, without regard for the tenets of a particular faith, is an integral part of higher education; for accepting one of the most challenging of all assignments in a non-sectarian university; for working for the worldwide fellowship which disregards race; creed and nationality in binding one to one's fellow men; he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee for Action Shelved. Because its members were unable to reach agreement among themselves, the Borough Council took no action Tuesday night on the resolution whose passage would clear the way for Princeton Seminary's $1,500,000 Speer Memorial Library. Once that building, earmarked for a site on Library Place between Mercer and Stockton Streets, is given the necessary zoning clearance, it would presumably mark for destruction the controversial 110-year old present Library, Lenox Hall.

For the better part of a year, the Seminary has sought an "easement of air and light" which would permit the construction of a new library closer to Borough Hall than is legal without a zoning variance. The matter has been debated at length by the mayor and council, with opposition stemming from the fact that Borough Hall and its land belong to the people of Princeton and no governing body has the right to give away any portion of the value of the property that will accrue to future generations.

While nothing more than "air and light" is involved, and the contested figure amounts to only 25 feet, the inevitable legal question of "setting a precedent" enters strongly into the problem. Future expansion of Trinity Church (on the other side of the former Thompson estate) might have the effect of "walling in" what was bequeathed to the community as a public park, it is contended in some quarters.

President John A. Mackay took the floor at a public meeting earlier this month to show why the Seminary feels the site in question is the only suitable location for its new building. He is scheduled to fly to Scotland for Presbyterian meetings this weekend, and there is currently no indication when the deadlock will be resolved.

"Alternate solutions," Mayor Sturges said, without amplification, "are being carefully studied."

Township in Extra Innings. The Township returned to its lengthy town meeting ways Monday evening and in an extensive three-hour, 20-minute session covered a host of subjects. The major accomplishments were accepting a bid on the omnibus $280,000 general improvements bond issue, passing of the Plumbing Code and approval of Carnassa Park road assessments, the latter two having dragged out for many months.

The bond issue was awarded to the First National Bank of Princeton with a bid of $2.05% interest and payment of $280,539.-28. Princeton Bank and Trust, two Trenton, two Newark and a New York firm were among the other bidders.

The bond issue, first in the Township's history, will convert financing of four major improvements from temporary notes to long-term payment in order to spread the payment burden on new as well as existing taxpayers. The improvements are the trunk sewer and dual roadway on North Harrison Street, the Valley Road School storm drain (all completed) and the $121,000 addition to Township Hall now being finished.

Carnassa Battle Flares. An extended 45-minute argument, conducted chiefly by William H. Cherry, preceeded committee approval by 5-0 vote of the revised assessments recommended for road improvement in the Carnassa Park area (Roper, Poe, Littlebrook, Rollingmead, Random).

Mr. Cherry again challenged the legality of the assessments,

Special Election Thursday

Voters of Princeton Township will go to the polls next Thursday, June 23, to pass on a $695,000 bond issue to underwrite a greatly expanded school system in the municipality. The polls at the Valley Road School will be open from 5 to 9 p.m.

The special referendum will seek approval for the construction of the proposed 22-room Littlebrook School, as well as for the addition of two classrooms at Valley Road. Issuance of the bonds will hinge on approval by the State and the voters to exceed the municipality's proposed borrowing capacity. Permission to take such a step was expected this week from the State Commissioner of Education.

their equity and other major points. Members of the committee replied in part but felt his objections did not affect the specific approval action before them. A challenge in court remains an outside possibility.

Plumbing Code Passed. The Township's new plumbing code based chiefly on state model legislation was finally approved after more than six months' discussion. An additional half-hour of debate arose, however.

Henry J. Frank of 273 Jefferson Road voiced objection to the licensing provisions, claiming they would lead to a monopoly for local plumbers, while Mr. Cherry suggested that the requirements would entrench the apprentice system. Committeeman Hugh D. Wise Jr. answered the objections by pointing to changes which the Township has made in the legislation. One alteration accepted was deletion of the requirement of citizenship for plumbers seeking licenses.

More Roads. The 28,000 multiple road improvement ordinance for work in the Woodland, Hillcrest, Hilltop, Mansgrove, Erdman, Laurel and Mt. Lucas Road area was passed on second reading and then tabled. The question of whether the Woodland Drive and adjoining sections work should be considered a package or as separate improvements will be given further study.

Committeeman Albert Salzman dissented, on second reading, causing a non-unanimous vote that is rare in the Township. George Rodefeld, Lester Stuart and John Winterbottom, all of Erdman Avenue, appeared to ask whether their share in the cost of improvement of Erdman would be the same as that of Borough residents accross the street. They were assured by Mayor Wallace and Committeeman Salzman that under the agreement worked out with the Borough cost per front foot will be identieal.

Residents of the Riverside area petitioned for a street of egress to the west parallel to Nassau Street and were told once again that the Township insists that developers and property owners are responsible for such desired construction.

Roads in the Deerpath area, water drainage on Guyot Road and in Princeton Knolls, and a request for a street light at the north end of Harris Road were also considered. The petition for zoning changes requested by Quaker Road residents in the Stony Brook area was referred to the Planning Board.

Other Township Action. Patrolman Fred Porter had a letter of commendation read to him and received congratulations for his work leading to the arrest of a check forger earlier this year. Police Chief James Campbell was also praised.

The Institute for Advanced Study was granted a zoning variance which will permit it to go ahead on construction of a $1,500,000 "homogeneous" housing project of 106 units. A campus-like area will be established on the site of existing barracks housing on Cook and Goodman Roads.

Ralph M. Hagen of 93 Hillcrest Lake Drive was renamed to the Planning Board for a six-year term. All alcoholic beverage licenses in the Township were renewed without objection.

N. Y. Bus Service Proposed. Residents of Princeton were asked this week by Mayor P. MacKay Sturges to express their opinions on a proposed bus service between New York and Princeton. Trips seven days a week at intervals of one to two hours between 6 a.m. and midnight are tentatively scheduled.

The matter will be discussed at a public hearing July 12 at the next meeting of the governing body. Letters to the governing body prior to that time will be welcome, the mayor said.

The proposed bus route will enter the borough on Nassau Street at Snowden Lane and proceed up Nassau to Witherspoon. It will then complete a loop down Witherspoon to Valley Road, to Hamilton Avenue and back to Snowden Lane.

The mayor said he had been informed that a trip to mid-town New York would require approximately 80 minutes. While they have not been set, fares are believed to be planned to be less than the cost of railroad tickets. The franchise is being sought by the Suburban Rapid Transit Co. of New Brunswick.

In other action Tuesday night, the council passed a resolution expressing its "sense of loss over the untimely death of Freeholder Edward A. Thorne." Mr. Sturges commented on his "frequent service to the Borough of Princeton."

The governing body awarded a contract which will range from $22,600 to $26,100, depending on the type of work done, for the repair and resurfacing of Fisher

It's New to Us

Set 'em Up. The new baby-food dispenser they have now at the Food Mart reminds us of nothing so much as a bowling alley. Principle is quite different, of course, since the rolling is done on a vertical plane instead of a horizontal, but if you'll stop at 20 Witherspoon and play around with those Heinz jars for a while, you'll see what we mean.

This device—probably invented by a junior executive while he walked the floor with an even younger executive—this device, as we said, is a 14-foot bank of clear plastic chutes. Each division is clearly labeled with "strained peas", "chopped carrots", and so on, for quick, painless selection.

Choose your entree, pull out the jar, which is stored on its side in the chute, and another jar will fall instantly into its place. Clerks in the Food Mart load the chutes from the top, and the jars roll back and forth down the ramps until they fall into place. With a canny knowledge of child psychology, the Mart has placed the display case well above the reach of small, inquiring fingers.

Also new to the Food Mart's display of foods is the S & W line of quality canned foods. Fruits, vegetables, delicacies — S & W foods are not low-priced, as you know, but they are high-quality.

The juices are particularly good, the Food Mart tells us, because they are extracted on the Pacific coast where the tomatoes and fruits are grown, thereby saving flavor that is often lost when fruits are shipped east for processing.

For children to dabble with this summer, the Food Mart offers stubby little four-ounce cans of beverage concentrate (root beer, lemon, lime and about half a dozen other flavors). One little can makes a quart and needs no sugar.

Over at the meat counter, we found fresh potato salad at 49c a pound—excellent for a spur-of-the-moment picnic,—cole slaw at the same price, and chicken salad at $1.49 a pound. The meat department will do any cooking that you'd rather not do yourself: ham, turkey, rib roast for church supper or large dinner party. Tell Mr. Levine how much you want to spend and he will suggest a cut within your budget. Allow a week for this service.

Junior Class. At The Clothes Line the other day we saw some well-designed and executed dresses for young girls or women who wear junior sizes. One in particular seemed to be a candidate for first place in a wardrobe.

Useful, practical, but not in the least pedestrian, it's a moss green (navy) cotton faille two-piece, excellent for travel. The princess cut dress has white loop straps. The bolero jacket has a pointed, collarless neckline, short sleeves, and a soft bow that ties it together at about rib height.

Bates Disciplined cotton makes a black or navy dress for $19.95 that has a bare top with tatted trim and a jacket that buttons to the neck with a white collar and three-quarter sleeves. Very tailored with the jacket, very dressed up without.

A striped dress in charcoal and white has small black flowers growing between the stripes, done in a flocking that goes all the way through the fabric. At $17.95. It features a low hipline accented with black bows, and a wide sleeveless bodice.

Waves of embroidery follow the full line of a white skirt that billows under a sun top. The waves are in blues, purples, greens, with a purple belt to mark the waist.

For a very young junior, there is a lovely dimity in white with black suns printed on it. For the junior figure at any age, there are many solid pastels on The Clothes Line racks. And for any size, there are sports blouses in such number that the long racks scarcely hold them all.

Toast the Bride. Wine goblets in sterling, a full eight inches tall, simple and classic in pattern, come from International Sterling to Stone-Wald's, the gift shop at 13 Palmer Square West, in time for the wedding gift season. This pair of silver goblets ($40, including tax) may be engraved with the names of bride and groom, or left plain to be polished lovingly with the years. A memorable wedding present.

Traditional silver again in a plated fruit bowl similar to the Revere pattern, ten inches in diameter for $16.50. Half a dozen sipper straws in sterling cost $13.75. There is a small spoon on the end of each. A sterling corkscrew and bottle opener combin-

Avenue, Erdman Avenue and Terr Ar Place. It went to Agabiti Brothers of Trenton.

Henry W. Kenauney was commended by council for "highly efficient work" in running the engineering department during the illness of I. Russell Riker, borough engineer. Mr. Riker has recovered and is now back at work.

Borough Court Action. Magistrate Paul R. Chesebro fined these drivers in his Tuesday court session:

Malcolm Peyton, Pretty Brook Road, and John Capsis, 20 Stanworth Lane, driving unregistered vehicles, $15 each; Ralph J. Belford, 2d, North Road, Mrs. Mary Vaccaro, Port Mercer Road, and David V. Cresson, 51 Westcott Road, speeding, $15 each; Mrs. Mildred Merritt, Washington Street, Rocky Hill, speeding, $10; Mrs. Elva K. Dodge, 706 Kingston Road, making an improper turn, $10.

More Space for ETS. Educational Testing Service has reached out for still another location on which its steadily expanding operations can function. Skillman and Skillman, rental agents for the Shopping Center, announced this week that ETS has leased 15,000 square feet of office space on the center's west side.

The air-conditioned offices are expected to be ready for occupancy by August 15. ETS is still in the process of determining which phases of its activities will be transplanted to the new locations its has leased in recent weeks.

Meanwhile, zoning negotiations are being completed in Lawrence Township (see page 11) which will enable ETS to erect its projected new $2,000,000 home in the Rosedale area.

One sample of booming operations at the testing organization is that the number of students taking "College Boards" last year jumped by 22%. Corresponding increase in all ETS projects is now occuring, reflecting among other things the wave of additional children now reaching schools.

Brothers Jailed in Brawl. Henry and Charles Toth of Alexander Road, Princeton Junction, were imprisoned for nine and three months respectively in the county workhouse by Township Magistrate Louis R. Gerber as the result of a fight near a Princeton University reunion tent. Their brother, seaman Michael Toth of Bayonne Navy yard was fined $50 and turned over to Naval authorities.

The row started when two of the brothers picked a fight with Laurence H. Sanford, President of the Class of 1947, near whose tent the brawl occurred. He complained to Sgt. Raymond Monfolone of the Borough Police, who called Township patrolmen Frederick M. Porter and Norman Servis.

While Charles and Michael were being put in the car, Henry attacked Mr. two policemen, but was subdued and also taken into custody. At police headquarters, where he was taken for confinement, he became violent and hit chimnus Robert Cutler of New York, knocking him unconscious. He also smashed in a window, cutting his hand and requiring hospital treatment.

Couple Celebrates Fiftieth. Mr and Mrs. Everett E. Satterthwait of 19 Madison Street celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary with their friends last weekend.

During the weekend, the Satterthwaits were with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr and Mrs Harry Parsons, their granddaughter, Patty, and Mrs Freda Eostwick, of Manlius, N. Y. On Saturday evening, they had dinner at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Thomas, of 120 Prospect Street, and, with Mr and Mrs. Arnold Bunny, of Cortland, N. Y., visited Miss Mildred Sprinkle, of Cranbury.

On Sunday, the Satterthwaits were given a dinner by their children at the Far Hills Inn. Those attending included William Wallace and Miller Anderson of Crosswicks, N. J., Mr. and Mrs. Menehert Lander, Miss Marguerite McClenaghan, Mr. and Mrs. Van Buren Leigh, Miss Elizabeth Thomas, Mrs. Catherine Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Robert C Perrine and Mr and Mrs. Eldrige B. Crowell, all of Princeton, Mrs. Bostwick; Mr. and Mrs. Bunny; and Miss Sprinkle. The group was also entertained at breakfast by Mr. and Mrs. Bunny at the Nassau Tavern.

Mr. Satterthwaite was a Princeton letter-carrier for 41 years, from 1912 to 1953. One of his first trips was delivering Woodrow Wilson's mail to him specially, after the New Jersey Governor and President of Princeton University had been elected President of the United States.

University Year Ends. Some 957 degrees were conferred by Princeton University at its 208th commencement exercises Tuesday on the Front Campus. Threatening skies held back long enough to preserve the perfect 21-year record of outdoor exercises, as more than 5,000 viewed the traditional ceremonies in the open commencement Amphitheatre.

Ten distinguished persons, headed by John Marshall Harlan '20, Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, received honorary degrees. Others honored included Gaylord P. Harnwell Ph.D '27, president of the University of Pennsylvania; Katherine Elizabeth McBride, president of Bryn Mawr College;

Francis Henry Taylor, director of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, 1940-1955;

Also, Henry Allen Moe, secretary general of the Guggenheim Foundation since 1924; Otto E. Neugebauer, professor of the history of mathematics at Brown and a member of the Institute for Advanced Study; Theodore Cuyler Speers '21, minister of the Central Presbyterian Church in New York; Matthew P. Gaffney, superintendent of New Trier High School, Winnetka, Ill.; Edward Pulling '20, founder and headmaster of Millbrook School, and Dumont Clarke '05, director of the religious department, Farmers Federation, and for 25 years leader of the Lord's Acre Movement for rural churches.

Among the members of the graduating Class of 1955, second largest in Princeton history, were 24 Princeton residents. They included Frederick J. Almgren Jr., Michael Artin, Alex S. Burnstan, Andrew G. Carey Jr., James W. Donnelly, Harold B. Elsasser, David H. Fulmer, James Q. Griffin;

Also, James L. Groom, George C. S. Hackl, Lewis D. Houck Jr., Ivo M. Kurg, Raphael H. Levey, Alan F. Lyster, Charles F. Mapes Jr., Ricardo A. Mestres Jr., Walter W. Muelken;

Also, Arthur K. Parpart Jr., Rubin C. Pittman, Clyde V. W. Popowich, Hamilton Ross, Paul R. Slimmon, Noel J. Stace and John D. Wallace. Mr. Slimmon and Mr. Ross were among 14 seniors designated as "distinguished military graduates" in the Air Force ROTC program, which commissioned officers at Princeton for the first time.

Mr. Artin was named co-recipient of a major academic award, the George B. Covington Prize in Mathematics.

Among the traditional events of the colorful year-end program was the Baccalaureate Service in the Chapel. President Dodds in his address emphasized the need for individuals to develop with the framework of organized society.

"Is it not true that the more complex, the more highly organized our society becomes, the more it requires competent, self-respecting individuals to make it work?

Splitting the Ticket

Congressman Frank Thompson, Jr. provided the diplomatic answer this week to a potentially embarrassing question. He comments in his weekly report from Washington:

"I have had several people write to ask me if I am building some kind of mansion in Princeton. The answer is no. I like Priaceton very much, hut I like my present home (in Trenton) and hope never to move from it."

"Are not the most advanced societies those in which you will find the individuals most highly developed? No, I do not see that mankind is being reduced to the level of ants and bees. On the contrary, I see hopeful signs that man is moving the other way," Dr. Dodds said.

Area College Graduates. Thirteen young men and women from the Princeton area have been graduated from their colleges and universities this June with degrees ranging from Bachelor of Science in Engineering to Doctor of Philosophy.

Thomas W. Robbins Jr. of 33 Jefferson Road received a Bachelor of Science degree from Washington and Lee College, in Lexington, Va. He will enter Duke University Medical School next fall.

PHS Seniors Receive Diplomas. Princeton High School's record Class of 1955 received diplomas from Mrs. Thelma Young, president of the board of education, at traditional exercises Wednesday in McCarter Theatre. The list of graduates appears on page 8.

Class president Robert Davison welcomed the guests and seniors presented an original program on the theme "I Hear America Sing." The Rev. Dr. John R. Bodo, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, delivered the invocation and benediction.

Major scholarship awards were presented by Irving W. Mershon, board secretary. Special certificates were presented to the two Americans Field Service students who attended the high school this year, Annette Ludovicy of Luxembourg and Aurelio Caputo of Italy.

Face Change for Nassau Street. Princeton Municipal Improvement will add to its property on Nassau Street with a new three-story structure but has postponed indefinitely construction of stores and apartments on the land that stands vacant at the eastern entrance to Palmer Square.

George A. Brakeley, P.M.I. president, said this week that the new building will replace existing structures at 32, 34 and 36 Nassau, between Chambers and John. Modern facilities for shops on the ground floor and offices on the two upper stories will be provided, with air conditioning throughout. Kenneth Kassler and Associates are the architects.

The building will be 33 feet wide and 100 feet deep, allowing space for either one or two stores on the ground floor and up to four offices above them. Design and color motif will harmonize with the colonial tradition in other buildings owned by P.M.I.

The construction is the first to be undertaken by the corporation since Palmer Square was completed 18 years ago. The stores to be demolished are those of the Princeton Decorating Shop, which will move shortly to 25 Palmer Square; University Cleaners, which is studying the possibilities for opening another branch near this location, and will continue to serve its customers at its 30 Moore Street plant and its Shopping Center branch; and C. Masselos, who has not yet announced a new location for his picture-framing business.

On the subject of plans for completion of the Square as originally designed, with stores and apartments bordering it on the east as well as the west, Mr. Brakeley had this to say:

"It had been the hope of the board to complete the original plans for Palmer Square in the near future, but reliable cost estimates under present conditions of labor and materials make such an investment unattractive at the present time. The project has not been abandoned, and the business and financial studies will be continued in the hope of an ultimate solution."

To the Editor of TOWN TOPICS:

Re, the current Merchant's Exhibition of art. I believe it is unfair to artists and to the public. It is unfair to artists because they never expected their works to compete with fishing tackle and watermelons in crowded windows with the sun beating down on them; and it is unfair to people because it seems to mock their intelligence.

Many of the paintings would look nice if properly hung and many people are capable of enjoying them. But under the circumstances people are heard to say, "well, if that's art I can get along without it."

Seeing art is different from seeing a poster. A poster has simple crying colors and you see it whether you want to or not. Therefore it is effective in a store window to tell the busy passerby what household commodities he can buy inside. But art must be seen with the spiritual eye as well as the physical.

All the spectator has done or hopes to do goes into his viewing of a picture. A picture recalls, it reminds, it inspires. Looking at pictures is a highly intimate affair. Good pictures are subtle. They do not tell you everything at once.

One must have peace and leisure to know pictures. The background is very important. Art lovers have decorated large rooms to compliment one picture.

Everybody knows that an opera singer would refuse to sing in the open air on Palmer Square without a megaphone. Music requires a hall with proper acoustics. Paintings also require visual acoustics, and they are as far from perfection as an opera singer in the open air.

It is not necessary to "expose" people to art. Art is not like measles to be caught from exposure. Every person must discover art for himself. When he says, "today

I will visit a gallery," he has made the first step in art appreciation. Princetonians are fortunate in having the great museums and galleries of New York and Philadelphia so near.

H. HALIT

(Editor's Note: Numerous points in Artist Halit's letter are particularly well-made, especially those dealing with the most desirable type of surroundings for pictures. However, in this instance, those responsible for the show felt that many a Princetonian would never see the paintings in New York or Philadelphia galleries and brought them to Princeton for the express purpose of overcoming such a situation. The obviously mundane background of "fishing tackle and watermelons" was intended to prove that art has a place in every day life, and need not be wholly associated with art galleries which so many apparently consider unapproachable.)

Four Frenchwomen Visit Here. Four French businesswomen were guests of the Princeton League of Women Voters last week for a tour of the Institute for Advanced Study, the University Library and R.C.A. Laboratories.

The women, Madam Marie Basch-Rigon, a radio announcer; Madame Marthe Enderiec Wurtz, director of a Strasbourg department store; Mlle Bernadette de Lignieres, a lawyer and judge; and Mlle. Renee Tessier, an economic assistant to the government, were visiting under the State Department's Exchange of Persons program. They were escorted by Mrs. Jess Epstein, President of the League; Mrs. Harold Cherniss, Mrs. John Fine, Mrs. Jacques Pankove and Mrs. Bernard Slade.

En route to Princeton from Trenton, where they were met by Governor Robert B. Meyner and had a tour through the State House, they visited the old Quaker Meeting House. The women were amazed at the degree of importance American women have in public life in contrast to France, where they have only been able to vote in the last ten years.

"In the United States members of the league of women voters concentrate on getting out an informed vote, whereas in France we are working for compulsory voting," said Mlle. Tessier, one of the founders of the "Association des Femmes Electrices," the League equivalent. She explained that only the extreme parties there had the power to force all their members to vote, and that hence the balloting was not representative.

Princetonian Injured in Fall. John Kriz of 46 Bayard Lane, an 18-year-old freshman at Princeton University, is in fair condition at the Princeton Hospital with a skull fracture and concussion after falling 12 feet through a barn trap-door on Monday.

Mr. Kriz was directing a University truck loaded with furniture from reunion weekend onto the second-floor ramp of the barn at Woodacres Farm on the Blawenburg-Rocky Hill Road. Another student who saw the accident said the young man was

FIRST IN TOWN: William Applegate, whose parents live at 417-C Devereux Avenue, maintains a steady seriousness "before and after" as he becomes the first child to receive a free Salk anti-polio vaccination under the program for first and second grade students. Billy headed the line at St. Paul's School, where Dr. J. Leonard Berry and Miss Catherine Whyte, school nurse, are shown giving the first injection. Awarded a lollypop, he set the tearless tone for the remaining 61 who received the vaccine. Waiting for their turn in the second picture are (left to right): Peggy Finley, Timothy Leadem and Diane MacDonald. — (Richards Photos)

Inoculations Lag

Less than a third of the eligible first and second grade pupils in Princeton schools received Salk anti-polio vaccine under the free program carried out here this week.

The fact that private schools had already closed, other schools were winding up for the year, parental uneasiness, and the background of conflicting medical opinions were the reasons given for the low vaccination rate. St. Paul's School, the first to inoculate, vaccinated 62 children (roughly 50%), while Nassau Street School provided shots for 53 of 220 eligible children (24%), and Valley Road was scheduled to vaccinate 81 students as opposed to 214 originally (38%).

Decision in the three schools to give the shots ran counter to expectations, but the town's health officers, David Blake of the Borough and Dr. William Kleinberg of the Township, felt that the new Lilly vaccine on hand should be made available if requested.

News of the Churches

Witherspoon to Remodel. An extensive program of remodeling, repainting and refurnishing will be launched this Sunday with a victory service, "Beautifying Witherspoon", to be held in the Parish House auditorium at 3:30 p. m.

During the summer months, a new chancel-type front will be built, and a new choir stall will be installed. The church has bought an Allen Electric organ to replace the one now in use, and it will be ready for fall services. The remodeling operations will also create a new pastor's study and dressing rooms for the choir. The interior of the church will be painted and new light fixtures installed. As yet, no contracts have been signed for the building and redecorating work.

New Chaplain Named. The Rev. Dr. Ernest Gordon, Chaplain to Presbyterian students at Princeton, has been appointed Dean of the University Chapel, to succeed the Rev. Donald B. Aldrich. Dean Aldrich's resignation was accepted by the University's Board of Trustees earlier this spring.

A graduate of St. Andrews University, the Rev. Dr. Gordon holds degrees from London University and Hartford Theological Seminary. As Chaplain on the Westminster Foundation, he has spoken often during the past year to various church groups in the Princeton community. For other facts on Dr. Gordon, see Man of the Week.

St. Paul's Awaits Verdict. At the next meeting of the Borough Zoning Board, scheduled for Thursday, June 23, St. Paul's Church will ask for exceptions in the zoning law which will enable the church to start construction on its three new buildings this summer.

According to the Borough zoning ordinance for residential districts, a new building must have a side yard whose width is double the height of the building. St. Paul's new church would thus have to be 96 feet from Moore Street.

To meet the requirements of the zoning ordinance for business districts, the new church would have to be directly on the Nassau Street sidewalk. Present plans locate it 69 feet back from Nassau.

The church also has a parking problem. At present 154 cars may be parked on church property, but the Borough feels that space should be provided for about 350 cars.

Laughlin to be Ordained. Ledlie I. Laughlin, Jr., will be ordained to the diaconate this Sunday at the 11 a. m. service in Trinity Church. The Bishop of Newark, the Right Rev. Benjamin M. Washburn, will officiate and the Rev. Paul Moore, Jr., rector of Grace Church, Jersey City, will be the preacher. Following his ordination, Mr. Laughlin will join the Rev. Mr. Moore as a deacon at Grace Church.

A graduate of Princeton with the class of '52, Mr. Laughlin studied at the General Theological Seminary, New York and was graduated from there last month. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ledlie I. Laughlin, Drakes Corner Road, and has been a parishioner of Trinity for many years. There will be a coffee hour following the service of ordination so that the congregation may meet Mr. Laughlin and the officiating clergymen.

Next Monday, June 20 from 9 to 11:30 a. m., the Methodist church will hold the first session of its annual Vacation Bible School for children from the primary age group through intermediates (12-14 years). The School will be under the direction of Mrs. Robert Shaw and will continue through July 1.

Mrs. Clarence Morehouse will lead the kindergarten group, Mrs. Wiley Critz will be in charge of the primary-age children and Mrs. I. S. Ness will take the Junior and intermediate classes. Barbara Bedford, a junior at Princeton High School, will supervise the outdoor play periods. The theme of the summer school is "The Christian Personality".

First Presbyterian. Dr. John R. Bodo will preach at the 9:30 and 11 a. m. services this Sunday. During the summer, the 9:30 service will be somewhat shorter than the later one, and those attending the early service are urged to "come as they are" in informal sports dress.

At the 11 a. m. service last Sunday, in behalf of the Session, Dr. John R. Bodo, presented a citation of recognition to B. Franklin Bunn, retiring president of the

Lawrenceville Topics

ETS Decision Due. The Lawrence Township Committee was expected to consider at its Wednesday meeting the zoning amendment which would clear the way for Educational Testing Service of Princeton to proceed on its proposed new home in the Rosedale Road area.

The Planning Board gave its approval to the amendment and committee approval was predicted. ETS has proposed a $2,000,000 relocation project on "Active Active Acres," the Frederick Schluter farm.

Polio Shots Scheduled. Administration of Salk anti-polio vaccine to first and second grade pupils in Lawrence Township public schools was set for Thursday morning (June 16) between 9 and 11 a.m.

Despite the fact that school has closed, medical personnel was alerted and the Junior High School was opened for the administration of shots. Only pupils to be inoculated were those who submitted signed verification slips May 20 and the board of education warned against inoculating children who have been ill recently.

Prize to Rowan. The Lawrence Township Scholarship awarded annually to a boy in the eighth grade of Lawrence Junior High was given last week to Gilbert Reed Rowan, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Rowan, Rosedale Road, by Dr. Allan V. Heely, headmaster of Lawrenceville School.

The scholarship is given on the basis of promise as a student and all-around citizen at Lawrenceville and on the results of competitive examinations given at the school. Rowan's brother was the winner of the award two years ago and is now a member of the fourth form.

Diplomas Awarded. A total of 56 diplomas were awarded to members of the Class of 1955 at Lawrence Junior High School Tuesday evening at the school.

Fred H. Combs Jr., principal, and Dr. Harry Pratt, superintendent of schools, presented the class to Dr. Russell S. Edmonds, president of the board of education, who awarded the certificates. Class president William Dechey welcomed the glests.

Academic Newsletter. The 145th commencement exercises of Lawrenceville School saw 155 seniors receive diplomas Joseph E. Alloway Jr. of 32 Hendrickson Road and Carl R. Pope of 2401 Lawrence Road received A.B.'s at Princeton University's 208th commencement exercises on Tuesday.

Arthur John Peck Jr. whose father is in the French Department at Lawrenceville School, received honorable mention for the Marcus D French Memorial Cup awarded annually to the outstanding boy in the Lower School . . . Harry N. Schaible, ranking senior at Lawrenceville and active in athletics and extra-curricular affairs, is one of the 100 students over the nation to be awarded a four-year college scholarship offered by General Motors.

Traffic Court Classic

Lawrence Township Judge Casimir E. Bugdal enacted a courtroom classic of sorts as he fined his own wife $15 and then shelled out the sum himself at Monday's traffic court.

Mrs. Bugdal was halted last week by Trooper W. R. Bull for passing a stopped school bus. Her husband announced the fine and then reached in his own pocket for the $15, commenting, "Well, she's not working."

Miscellany. Officers of the West Windsor Lions Club were installed Wednesday at a dinner meeting in the Nassau Tavern. (See picture, page 19).

A general alarm Tuesday night at 10:28 brought the fire department to Swinnerton's Gulf Station at Nassau and Maple Streets, where a large box of book matches had become ignited. Slight damage was done to office equipment but there was more smoke than fire.

The Class of 1930 at Princeton High School will hold its 25th reunion this Friday night at 7.30 at the Nassau Tavern. A buffet supper and dancing are planned, with Joseph Stonaker, class president, in charge of arrangements.

The Princeton Exempt Firemen's Association has announced through its secretary, Russell H. Smith, that it will not meet during the summer. The next program is set for September 27.

Miss Sandra Dinsmore has been named to the freshman honors list at Bradford Junior College, Bradford, Mass. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Braddock Dinsmore of Lawrenceville Road.

News of the Theatres

New Arrival? Tentative plans put forward by Buskins and Socks indicate that there may be some amateur theatre productions in Princeton this summer after all. The group, which was formed earlier this year with a nucleus of high school age students interested in the theatre, has received permission to use Murray Theatre on the University Campus.

Plans appear to be relatively uncertain, but should they materialize, there would be a number of productions starting about the second week of July. The young group in its first release says that it is considering many shows for production, among them "Dear Ruth," "George Washington Slept Here," "The Young and Fair," "Bernadine," and others.

With a full-scale dramatic or musical production completely absent at Princeton High School this year, Buskins and Socks was formed and presented the comedy "Time Out for Ginger." The youthful group was able to show a small profit on its first venture.

The club has since doubled in membership, making summer production a possibility. Sandra Jefferson will serve as producer, while Pat Miscall will do sets and Donald Martin the lighting. No director has been named as yet. Information on ushering may be obtained through Alicia Schmidt, 322 Harris Road.

BUCKS COUNTY PLAYHOUSE

Victor Jory in "The Fairly Fortune" is closing a week's run in New Hope. Action revolves about two men confronted with the problem of whether their idealistic end justifies corrupt means. Michael Wagner shares the spotlight with Mr. Jory, while Lois Smith appears as a young girl with whom both men are in love.

Set in pre-Civil War days when the Abolitionist movement was reaching its peak, the play moves well and benefits from a number of good performances. It's Broadway-bound, according to plans announced by its producer, Alfred de Liagre, Jr.

Opening Monday will be the amusing offering, "Oliver, Oliver," starring Jessie Royce Landis, "Mornings at Seven," billed as "warm family comedy," moves into the Bucks County Playhouse for a week's run on June 27.

GRIST MILL PLAYHOUSE

Another addition to the summer theatrical scene will be the Grist Mill Playhouse, located in Andover, N. J. upstate on Route 206. Grist Mill will be operating under new management and a new policy this summer.

Paton Price and Michael Ellis (who is the Bucks County Playhouse producer) have teamed together with new capital in a move to raise standards and interest in the Andover theatre.

Package shows touring the summer circuit will no longer be booked. Instead the policy of creating its own shows with special casting for each offering will be followed. Mr. Ellis' Bucks venture is having particular success with this policy at present.

Grist Mill will open with "Guys and Dolls" on Saturday, July 2, with ten other productions to follow. After "Guys and Dolls", all shows will open on Tuesday and run through Sunday. Curtain time will be 8:30 Tuesday through Saturday and 8:00 on Sunday. There will be Thursday matinees at 2:00.

Grist Mill will employ many of the players now in the cast of the New York City Center revival of "Guys and Dolls", the Damon Runyon-Frank Loesser-Abe Burrows musical about slightly underworld Broadway characters. There will be a full orchestra in the pit.

The remainder of the schedule: is as follows: July 12 - 17, "Oh, Men! Oh, Women!"; 19 - 24, "Sabrina Fair"; 26 - 31, "Picnic"; August 2 - 7, "King of Hearts"; 9 - 14, "Time Out For Ginger"; 16-21, "The Caine Mutiny Court-Martial"; 23-28, "My Sister Eileen"; August 30 — September 4. "You Never Know", (a Cole Porter musical); September 6 - 11, "The Fourposter."

MUSIC CIRCUS

"Wonderful Town", the wonderful musical hit, is now lodged at the Music Circus in Lambertville. The attraction will remain through Sunday, June 26, to be followed by "Me and Juliet".

On Broadway, the show had a fabulous run with Rosalind Russell and then Carol Channing leading the way. Based on the play "My Sister Eileen", which was based in turn on the Ruth McKenney stories about two girls who come from Columbus, Ohio, to make their fortunes in New York, the musical was fashioned in an outstanding manner.

The book is by Joseph Fields and Jerome Chodorov. Lyrics are by Betty Comden and Adolph Green, while Leonard Bernstein contributed unusual and outstanding music.

The cast at Lambertville is headed by Helena Bliss, seen last at Lambertville two seasons ago, and Elise Rhodes, who has just completed an engagement in the hit "Phoenix '55."

Also playing are Art Luad, Isabella Hoopes, James Norbert, Amy Freeman, Jim Kirkwood, Craig Timberlake, Dort Clark, Marilyn Sable and Ten Benaides, the latter three graduates of the original "Wonderful Town" company.

FILM FORUM

A "bonus" in the form of the Alec Guiness comedy-hit "Kind Hearts and Coronets" will be shown to the membership of the Princeton Film Forum this Monday at 8 in the auditorium of the First Presbyterian Church.

Admission is by subscription only and no single admissions are sold, in order to protect the forum's non-profit status. The organization was founded in January and the limit of 150 memberships was quickly reached and many could not be accommodated.

Plans are under way to resume the programs in the fall. Information about enrollment in the fall series may be obtained by writing Benjamin Shimberg, 26 Cuyler Road. The programs this spring included a wide variety of features, short subjects and documentary films, many of them shown here for the first time.

THE PLAYHOUSE

Cooling Note. With the Playhouse the only local movie theatre in operation this summer (the Garden closes Saturday until Labor Day), the management has had new air-conditioning put in for the benefit of film-goers. The new system replaces one of 17 years standing, one constructed comparatively early in the air-conditioning age.

The Prodigal (June 15-18) is a sex-and-salavation Bible epic, with probably the most cynical intentions ever foisted on the public in this kind of film. Furthermore, Lana Turner and Edward Purdom are wooden and the film is dull, despite the spectacular scenes. The writers cooked up quite a few sins and sinners for the story of the prodigal son, which despite cuts and a theoretically moral ending, are designed to titillate.

Strange Lady in Town. (June 19 - 21) takes Greer Garson out west for the first time, playing a lady doctor who has to win her place and, naturally, male respect. There something for everybody in this film of many incidents, including too much sentimentality for this corner. Dana Andrews, Cameron Mitchell, Lois Smith, Walter Hampden, the Apaches and others are featured.

Davy Crockett (June 22 - 25) has apparently conquered the nation already through Walt Disney's fabulous advance publicity campaign. The film adapted from his "Disneyland" TV series is good, too, filled with excitement. The primary impact should be on the younger set. Fess Parker is fine as the "king of the wild frontier" and Buddy Ebsen excels as his side kick.

THE CARDEN

Hell's Island (June 16-18) is the final offering until Labor Day at the Garden. The film is a quickie Carribean intrigue designed for the action fan who is disinterested in plot refinements. John Payne gets into a lot of trouble with people such as Mary Murphy and Francis L. Sullivan before justice triumphs.

Eighteen Promoted. Dr. Harold W. Dodds, president of Princeton University, has announced the promotion of eight members of Princeton's faculty to the rank of professor, six to that of associate professor and the appointment of four assistant professors to Bicentennial Preceptorships. The promotions were made at the spring meeting of the University's board of trustees.

Those advanced to the post of professor, together with their departments, are: Dr. Robert H. Dicke, Physics, a member of the faculty since 1946 and an associate professor since 1947; Dr. Eric F. Goldman, a faculty member since 1942; Dr. Donald R. Hamilton, Physics, at Princeton since 1946; Dr. Wilbur S. Howell, English, a faculty member since 1934.

Also, Dr. William W. Lockwood, Assistant Director of the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs since 1949 after joining the faculty in 1946; Dr. John C. Maxwell, chairman of the Department of Geological Engineering, also with the faculty since 1946; Dr. Silvan S. Tomkins, Psychology, at Princeton since 1949, and Dr. Franklyn B. Van Houten, Geology, who came here in 1946.

Those advanced to associate professor include: Dr. Philip H. Ashby, Religion, a member of the faculty since 1950; Dr. Edgar S. Furniss, Jr., Politics, made instructor in 1947 and assistant professor a year later; Dr. Sumner B. Irish, a member of the faculty since 1945; Dr. Edmund L. Robertson, Jr., English, who has been at Princeton since 1946.

Bicentennial Preceptorships are awarded for three-year terms to provide outstanding men the opportunity to advance in both teaching effectiveness and scholarship. The preceptorships carry with them salaries above the average for assistant professor and a year's leave of absence.

The assistant professors appointed to Bicentennial Preceptorships are: Dr. Jackson J. Campbell, English, appointed assitant professor at Princeton in 1954; Warren W. Eason, Economics and Sociology, a new appointee to the faculty; Dr. Robert A. Lively, History, an instructor at Princeton in 1949-50 and at present assistant professor at the University of Wisconsin; and Earl Kim, Music, who was appointed instructor at Princeton in 1952 and at present is a Lecturer.

Half a Million "Killed." Nearly a half-million people were recorded as killed and even more were severely injured in the six cities "struck by atomic blasts" in New Jersey Wednesday. Thomas S. Dignan, acting state director of Civil Defense and Disaster Control, reported that Newark, Jersey City, Paterson, Elizabeth, Trenton and Camden were all damaged by atomic blasts.

Four hundred thousand persons, nearly half of them in Newark, were killed by the bombs, which caused wide-pread damage in each of the six stricken cities. Large areas in each were totally destroyed, while severe to heavy damage was reported in a three-mile radius around each ground zero, with light damage extending another half-mile.

In Newark, 238,000 casualties were reported, more than half of the state's total of 468,000 persons injured in the blasts. Mr. Dignan, in conference with Governor Robert B. Meyner, reported that there were only 31,000 hospital beds available, while 166,000 were needed. Some 565,000 persons were reported as seeking shelter after being made homeless by the explosion and subsequent fires.

Firemen and rescue workers were hampered in their efforts to fight the fires that raged in the metropolitan areas by a lack of water caused by bursting water mains. A scarcity of timbers with which to shore up passageways under the rubble severely imperiled the heavy duty rescue squads.

The state's 252,000 CD-DC workers began their operations as soon as the White (All Clear) signal sounded. Personnel were employed in aiding injured persons, while other workers aided in the mobilization of all available trucking for the conveyance of casualties and supplies to and from the bombed areas.

This is a report of what the CD-DC expects to occur in the event of an enemy attack on New Jersey, as predicted on the test alert last Wednesday. "The 252,000 volunteers now active in the Civil Defense and Disaster Control organization in New Jersey would be in a position to give only a small amount of the assistance that would be needed," Mr. Dignan said, in releasing the probable statistics. "I hope those who have not volunteered to serve in the CD-DC organization will contact their local directors and sign up."

"Slaughter of Animals" Deplored.

To the Editor of TOWN TOPICS:

Your weekly rhapsodies over some accomplishment of Homo sapiens, subspecies Princetonian, are rather delightful. I believe, however, that a better purpose might be served if you would take out time occasionally to point out some of the idiocies and stupidities of the same subspecies.

I am referring in particular to the brutal and senseless slaughter of animals on the highways and byways of Princeton. Any given Sunday morning the corpses of cats, squirrels, rabbits and birds are littering the roads. I myself drive sufficiently frequently at night to know it to be a fact that none of these animals leap into the way of a car; it is nearly always possible to slow down or stop altogether to avoid hitting an animal.

Apparently there is a special type of moron abroad on Saturday nights, to judge by the gruesome evidence next morning. One is almost driven to the conclusion that Princetonians like to kill.

Yours very truly,
MRS. J. P. CORBETT

A Look at the Future

A discussion on "The Future of the Business Section—Deterioration?" will be held by the Princeton Business Association Monday at 8. The association's annual meeting, it will be held at the Peacock Inn.

Among the points which will be discused at the session are a report on the Silver Dollar Day program by the Retail Merchants Committee and a request by the Suburban Transportation Company for backing of a commuter bus service to New York. In addition, there will be a report on Princeton's Downtown Business Area by Herbert Smith, a member of Community Planning Associates.

St. Paul's P.T.A. Meets. Mrs. Mary Zucarello was installed as president of the St. Paul's P.T.A. by retiring President Mrs. Thomas Brophy at the final meeting for the year in the school auditorium.

Other officers include Mrs. Brophy, first vice-president; Mrs. Albert Lippmann, second vice president; Mrs. Richard Goeke, third vice president; Mrs. Reuben Johnson, treasurer; Mrs. Martin McGuinn, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Gottfried Gutbrodt, recording secretary.

Soroptimists to Meet. Mrs. Ceville Jones will be installed as president of the Princeton Club

WORRIED?

She was worried—she had three children, aged three and a half, two and seven months, respectively, and by the time she bought groceries and paid the drug bill, there wasn't much left. Her funds were so low she was sure she couldn't buy a new dress but she had heard of Bailey's and had wondered whether she really could buy those hard to find things there.

With the little cash she had left, she thought she would look and see if it were possible. She was one of those nice women who never give up.

She not only bought herself a dress but also a pair of hose and a slip with her remaining money. You, too, can find those impossible to find things at Bailey's at prices you can afford!

Alsop boasts a sturdy handle of silver that will withstand all kinds of treatment. Price is $8.25.

For a golden anniversary Stone-Wald's suggests a piece or two of Pickard china, the fine porcelain that is overlaid with gold in a delicate lace design. There's a sugar and creamer, a small ashtray a vase, and several smaller miscellaneous dishes.

An Elgin lighter, new in design this year, has a removable mechanism. When it goes dry take it out and replace the whole thing. It comes in black and gold and has a sophisticated air.

Back in the clothing department for a last look we found a tall sterling vase, plain and lovely, for $84, and a salt and pepper glass lined, for $6.50. All these sterling prices at Stone-Wald's include federal tax.

Come and Get It! The sound of the triangle, clangered at the bunkhouse door to summon the hands to supper, has been muted somewhat for tenderfeet about to eat barbecue. At Farr's, 138 Nassau, there is a triangle hung on a leather thong and a striker that has a "burned" wooden handle. Western as heck. Pay $3.95 and chirley away soon as the steak is done.

Bell ringers may prefer a solid brass bell hung from a black wrought iron horse-shoe. It costs $6.50.

All kinds of equipment here for the outdoor appetite. Buy a Roto-Matic Bar-B-Q-Roto serie ($19.95) for beach, mountains or backyard. It runs on two flashlight batteries.

To keep the beer and vittles cold while you're on your way, Farr's suggests the Sna-Gel ice pillow. It feels like a bag of jello, but it freezes solid and is reusable. Bag is 12 by 7 inches, with a cover of vinyl plastic. There is a small size, too, if your lunch is just a sundwich.

Not to be out-frozen, the Skotch Kooler company has Skotch Ice, four little cans at 69c, packed in a carton so that they look like miniature beer cans. Freeze them over and over, all summer long and use them to keep picnics cool. The same company offers this summer the Skotch Kooler. It's a one or two gallon container insulated with fibreglass.

A one-gallon jar rests inside the familiar Skotch case. There is a small opening, if you have a liquid to pour, and a larger one if you have potato salad to dip out. Price is $2.98 or $3.98 depending on size.

The Woodland insulated picnic bag looks like a small square holster covered with Scotch plaid. It costs $4.50, zips all around, and is made of washable vinyl. This is one of many insulated picnic bags that Farr offers for the picnic season.

Stay-at-homes may amuse themselves making ice-cream. Silex has a Freeze-O-Tray ($18.95 up) and so does White Magic. You put some of these trays into your refrigerator, use others with the small motor that comes with each one.

Mothers, daughters and sons shopping for Father's Day may turn in at Farr's to inspect a complete spinning outfit for the fisherman in the family: rod, reel, line and two lures for $14.95, worth anywhere from $20 to $30.

Mathematician Honored. Dr. Albert W. Tucker, Chairman of the Department of Mathematics at Princeton University, has been named to a supervising committee for the Albert Sloan Foundation's $5,000,000 program. The purpose of the fund is to promote research in the basic sciences.

The fund, which was established last month under a grant from Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sloan Jr., will be used to set up the best facilities for research. The directors of the fund will be responsible for locating areas in the field which need work and locating the proper scientists to undertake the investigations.

Library Hours. Summers hours have now been placed in effect at the Public Library. They are set for 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday and 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Thursday and Saturday for adults. Children's hours will be from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. on all weekdays except Thursday and Saturday, when the hours will be 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The Public Library wishes to remind all Township residents that they are entitled to free library service, under the annual contract for library support. During the past two and one-half years that this Borough-Township contract has been in effect, there has been a great increase in the use of the library by township residents. A 50 per cent increase was realized in 1954 over 1953.

Faculty Members Honored. Dr. Charles P. Smyth, professor of chemistry at Princeton University, and Dr. Jacques Maritain, emeritus professor of French philosophy at the University, have been honored for work in their academic fields. Dr. Smyth has been elected to the distinguished membership of the National Academy of Sciences and Dr. Maritain has received the Campion Award of the Catholic Book Club for distinguished and long-standing service to the cause of Catholic letters.

Dr. Smyth, a member of the Princeton faculty since 1920, also received one of the highest awards in American chemistry last year when he became the 1954 recipient of the Nichols Medal of the New York Section of the American Chemical Society. The award was made for his contributions to the study of molecular shapes by electronic methods.

Dr. Maritain, a former French Ambassador to the Vatican, joined the Princeton faculty in 1948 and retired in 1952. The eminent French philosopher-theologian was a professor of philosophy at the Catholic Institute of Paris for many years and held a professorship at the Pontifical Institute of Medieval Studies in Toronto, Canada.

Sports in Princeton

First Time in 55 years. For the first time in the 20th century, no Princeton-Yale baseball game was played as part of the commencement activities here. Two years ago, the Saturday date was postponed by wet weather but the contest was staged the following Tuesday. Princeton's 4-2 victory gave the Tigers the 1953 Ivy League title.

When last weekend's morning-long rain made play impossible, Yale found itself unable to fit in another date. The Elis had wrapped up the league championship in May and were scheduled to play Harvard at New Haven on Monday and at Cambridge on Wednesday. Accordingly, cancellation proved the only solution and the 1955 series that had seen one game go to each team remained undecided.

Easton Turns Pro. Signing with the Philadelphia Phillies for an undisclosed bonus figure, John Easton has joined the growing list of Princeton ball players to go into the major leagues in recent years. Will Prior, a catcher and outfielder, went with the New York Giants after graduation; shortstop Jim Fairchild signed with the Braves, then of Boston; southpaw pitcher Harry Brightman, who hurled a no-hitter against Fordham, joined the St. Louis Cardinals; Dave Sisler got $40,000 for signing with the Boston Red Sox; and Joe Golden, a slugging first baseman, became the property of the Athletics, then of Philadelphia.

All of these careers have been interrupted by military service, and Easton's future will be no exception. He's off on a two-week western trip with the Phils, but will start a two-year hitch as an ensign in the U. S. Navy on July 2.

The Tiger center fielder's signing to play professional ball came as something of a surprise, since he had indicated as recently as early spring that he would concentrate on his intended career in electrical engineering when his time had been served in the Navy. The New York Giants were after him, and various other major league scouts had been in the stands at University Field on frequent occasions.

Easton hit .343 in the Ivy League this season and was pegged at about that figure for the entire 1955 campaign. He has a particularly fine arm and unusual defensive ability built around speed and ability to judge well-tagged balls.

Three Trophies Won. Further indication of his athletic ability came this week with the awarding of trophies for achievement during the past year. As a member of the Ivy League champions in basketball and captain of the baseball team, John won the Roper Trophy, the highest honor the University can confer upon an athlete.

It is awarded to the senior who best combines "high scholastic rank, outstanding qualities of sportsmanship and general proficiency in athletics." The trophy is in memory of Princeton's one-time football coach, the late William W. Roper '01. Easton also took the Frederick W. Kafer and Bill Clarke trophies for proficiency in baseball.

NEW PHILLY: John Easton, 1955 captain of the Princeton baseball team, has signed to play with the Philadelphia Phillies.

NEW CAPTAIN: Jim Gibson, capable left-handed pitcher, has been named to lead the Princeton baseball team next year.

Among the winners of awards announced this week was a Princeton resident. Harry Rulon-Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Rulon-Miller of 6 Newlin Road, won the Princeton Freshman Hockey Trophy.

Pitcher New Captain. Although college teams rarely pick pitchers for their captains, Princeton now has three who have been elected in the last five years. Ray Chirurgi and Dave Sisler were captains in 1952 and '53 (Joe Golden was chosen to succeed Sisler when he became ineligible by signing with the Red Sox before the season began.)

Next spring, Jim Gibson will lead the Tigers. A southpaw who has unusually good control, Gibson compiled a 5-2 record this year and was 3-1 in the league.

Lafayette Wins. The team's final game of the year was not one to recall with any degree of pleasure, as a chill wind and drizzle cut the Lafayette game to six innings. The Leopards had all the better of it, winning 12-5 and having four more runs washed out in the top of the seventh.

Two Princeton residents were on the visitors' team. Bill Hogerty played third base and rammed a 365-foot home run well up in the righthield stands. In the seventh, he tripled to right center but the hit did not count when the rain increased and the game was called before Princeton came to bat.

Pat Tidey pitched in relief for Lafayette. A Hun School alumnus, he will play summer ball in Canada.

Crew at Syracuse. Princeton athletes will be in action this weekend for the final time in the present academic year. In Los Angeles, Captain Joe Myers and Gabriel Markison of the track team will take part in the N.C.A.A. championships. Myers, Heptagonal titleholder in the quarter-mile, will enter that event, while Markison will run in the 100 and 220-yard dashes.

On Lake Onondaga at Syracuse, Princeton's freshman, junior varsity and varsity crews will row in the national regatta. The first-year crews will compete over a two-mile course, with the jayvees and the varsity traveling three miles.

Penn is favored to take the title that Navy has held for the past three years, with Washington and Cornell also good bets. If Princeton finishes in the first four in any of the three races, it will be a highly worthwhile achievement.

Leach to Coach Hun. Barton B. Leach, co-captain of the University of Pennsylvania basketball team and a member of the Quaker baseball squad, will coach basketball and football at the Hun School next year, Dr. Paul Paul R. Chesebro, headmaster of the school, has announced.

Leach, who will be studying at Princeton Seminary for the next three years, will be head coach in basketball and assistant coach in football, and in addition will be a part-time faculty member. His wife will serve in a secretarial capacity at the school.

At the Pennsylvania commencement exercises, Leach received the Spoon Award, the highest undergraduate honor the university can bestow. He was elected a member of the Phi Kappa Beta Junior Honor Society and a member of the Undergraduate Council. A member of the student Christian Association. Leach was the Chief Counsellor of the University Camp for Boys and Abbot of the Friars Senior Honor Society.

P.A.C. Wins First. The Princeton Athletic Club, off to a fast start on the wings of a two-hit shutout credited to Ray Davis, will play its third home game of the season this Friday at 6:15 on Brokaw Field. Neshanic, a newcomer to the five-team Bi-County League, will provide the opposition.

Manager Chick Davis is scheduled to do the pitching. The P.A.C. nine, defending champion, met Montgomery Township earlier this week and will travel to meet Hopewell next Tuesday.

Blawenberg, fifth entry in the circuit, was beaten 1-0 in the season opener last week. The victors collared their only run without a hit on walks to Bill Rodefeld, Walt Wells and Bob Montgomery, followed by a wild pitch.

Robin Foster, Princeton center fielder, got two of the victors' three safeties, one of them a double. The P.A.C. nine gave Davis errorless support and chipped it with several fine defensive plays topped by a Foster-to-Rodefeld double play that nipped a runner trying to go from second to third after an outfield catch.

The lineup currently includes Bob Dennen, catcher; Wells, first base; Del Wible, second base; Rodefeld, third; Montgomery, short; Lee Ammerman, Foster and Bruce Dennen in the outfield.

Chick Davis and Bruce Dennen will alternate with Ray Davis as the pitchers; Pat Tidey of Lafayette (see above) was scheduled to hurl the game against Montgomery in his only appearance here this season. Tom James and Henry Cauncey, Jr., the latter a member of the Harvard nine, will augment the team shortly.

Junior Baseball Plans. The Playgrounds Committee will again offer a Junior baseball league for boys 15 and under as a part of its summer recreation program. Plans are being made for a four-team league, according to C. Edward Christian, summer recreation supervisor.

An announcement will be made in the near future concerning the sponsors and managers for the coming season. Last year's sponsors (Matthews, Bowers, Bordens and Nassau Oil) have again been invited to back teams. The managers last summer were Robert Sinkler, Wendell Beecher and B.B. Bergesen, Jr.

Mr. Bergesen will serve as league director this year. A trophy will be given to the championship team, which last year was Bowers. Individual awards will also be presented to players on the squad.

Boys who played last year and are still eligible this year will remain with the same team. Those who wish to sign up for the first time should give their names to either Mr. Bergesen or to Ralph Papa at the Princeton Y.M.C.A. The drafting will take place at the Y.M.C.A.

Good Pitching. Close on the heels of Harry Kahny's no-hitter in the Community Softball League came a pair of one-hitters credited to Sam Lisi of the Sunbeams and Huck McCreedy of Nassau Social Club. The triumphs they provided kept the two teams in first and second place, respectively, in the standings.

Lisi stapped Frazee's with a lone hit in racking up a 5-1 triumph. John Fuschini paced the Sunbeams' attack with a single and two homers.

McCreedy tossed a 4-0 shutout at the Eagles, benefitting from errorless support. Buddy Cavanaugh's line single in the fifth was the losers' only safety. Jack Petrone's double chased across the first two runs for the Social Club. Losing pitcher Paul Parisott fanned five, while McCreedy retired seven in similar fashion.

The Eagles achieved a split for the week when they topped RCA, 11-1, in a make-up game. Parisott let RCA down with five safeties, while his teammates collected 11 safe blows off Lefty Lloyd.

In other action, Artistic Clippers gained a firmer hold on third place with a 6-5 triumph over RCA. Tom Collins was the winning hurler, with his battery mate, Jim Lewis, clubbing a two-run homer in the second inning.

Applied Science edged the Jokers, 2-1, on a rally in the last inning. Sam Nini had a 1-0 shutout until Gordon Carter tied it with a home run. Jake Delano's double then scored Fred Guerzini from first with the winning tally.

There's danger lurking in that old, discarded ice box or refrigerator that you may have in your back yard.

Every year children die from suffocation because they love to play in these dangerous cabinets. Here's what you should do if you see a discarded box in your neighborhood or in the junk yard:

Remove the door. It's the best way to make such a cabinet safe.

Remove the latch on the door by taking out the screws on the door plate.

Drill holes in the door and remove the rubber gasket.

OR

Tell the policeman in your neighborhood about this dangerous menace.
